

Alpha Phi Omega Region H
Ideas for Virtual Leadership Events
Spring & Summer 2020

Virtual Leadership Event Ideas:

1. APO Impact Webinars
2. APO LEADS: Launch course on demand
3. Region H Webinars
4. Ted Talks (available on Youtube)
5. Alison.Com free online courses on Leadership & Project Management
6. Leadership Development Speeches or Courses (available on Youtube)
7. Reading Leadership Development material online or printed
8. Student-led Leadership Webinars (your Leadership VP or exec members could host)
9. Advisor-led Leadership Webinars (ask your advisors if they have topics to present on)
10. University Leadership Development material or resources online

Tips:

1. Offer more “work-from-home” opportunities where students can complete leadership hours with online or remote organizations of their choosing & increase the number of outside-APO hours permitted.
2. If students can complete a leadership development course or speech outside of APO programming (Alison.Com, Youtube, etc), you could ask them to turn in a paragraph review of the course for their leadership hour credit.
3. Group leadership events could take place virtually if students planned to watch a speech or take a course together (live on Zoom, Skype, etc) by hitting ‘play’ at the same time.
4. Besides webinars and courses, there are many ways to gain leadership experience through APO. A flexible option to offer your exec members or committee chairs would be to offer leadership hours for planning a virtual event, leading an extra virtual meeting or townhall, or something outside of their typical responsibilities in the chapter.
5. Reading leadership materials online may also be a great alternative for students who prefer something other than video learning. You could ask them to turn in a paragraph review of the material they read for their leadership hour credit.
