

Good afternoon brothers,

Please pass this email along to all advisors as well as potential advisors in your sections. We have created a new regional program for advisor training that will be debuting next weekend at RVC!

We have received a lot of input from our students, current advisors, and Section Chairs that our chapters are in need of additional training and resources for advisory teams. We hope to best support our students with future trained and prepared advisor candidates.

This optional training program will be available at any virtual conference this year as well as on-demand. Chapters may encourage new advisors to go through these courses during their first year. We will have a form to complete for any volunteers that want to take the recorded courses on-demand. Please see the chart below for a list of topics under each corresponding level.

We're excited to offer an organized and structured program for new advisors going forward! And I would greatly appreciate participation from our wonderful current advisors as much as possible to help pass along experience and knowledge in these webinars. This is vital while developing future advisors and leaders in our Fraternity, and there's so much that a long term advisor can provide to these discussions.
